EDUCATION

- 2017 Ph.D., Anthropology, University of Michigan.
 Dissertation Title: The Crucible of Complexity: Community Organization and Social Change in Bronze Age Transylvania (2700-1320 BC).
- 2006 M.A., Anthropology, Washington State University.
 Thesis Title: Vital Signs: Costly Signaling and Personal Adornment in the Near Eastern Neolithic.
- 2004 B.A., Anthropology, University of Notre Dame.

PROFESSIONAL POSITIONS

- 2017-present Assistant Professor, Anthropology Department, Hamilton College
- 2016-2017 Lecturer, Department of Anthropology, Appalachian State University

RESEARCH AND TEACHING INTERESTS

- Theory: Political economy, landscape archaeology, mortuary theory, evolutionary theory, signaling theory, social networks.
- Topics: Increasing social complexity, origins of inequality, cremation, metal procurement, public archaeology, sustainable mining, community engaged-learning.
- Methods: Archaeological survey, lithic technological analyses, human osteology, Bayesian analysis, radiocarbon analyses, GIS, network analysis.
- Regions: Europe, Near East, North America.

- 2004 Charles R. Jenkins Award. Lambda Alpha National Collegiate Honor Society for Anthropology.
- 2004 Peter Brown Professional Achievement Award. University of Notre Dame.
- 2004 Julian Samora Award. University of Notre Dame.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

INSTRUCTOR OF RECORD

- 2019-20 Archaeology of Death, Hamilton College. Spring 2019, Fall 2020.

This upper level course explores mortuary practices through the archaeological record and what they can tell us about ritual, social, economic, and ideological institutions in the past.

- 2019-20 Stuff: Materiality and Inequality, Hamilton College. Spring 2019, Spring 2020.
 This course examines the social origins of inequality through the lenses of material culture and technologies of production, labor and social structure, and hierarchy.
- 2018-20 Human Ancestors, Hamilton College. Spring 2018, Spring 2020.
 This upper level course examines the fossil and archaeological evidence for the evolution of humans as a biocultural species.
